THE WORLD'S CORAL REEFS FACE IMMINENT DANGER DUE TO HUMAN ACTIVITY & CLIMATE CHANGE

Coral reefs support a quarter marine life and 90% of them are on track to be eliminated by 2050 — WWF 2018 report

When reefs are damaged or destroyed, the absence of this natural barrier can increase the damage to coastal communities from normal wave action and violent storms

— National Ocean Service America

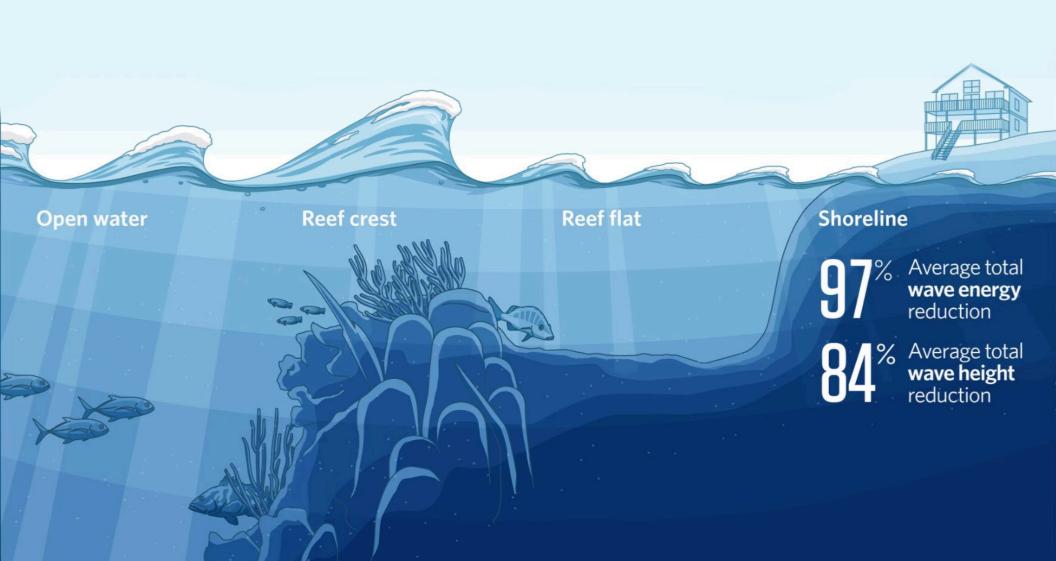

The causes of coral cover decline [in the Mesoamerican Reef] include overfishing, coastal development and associated pollution and rising sea temperatures

- Royal Society Open Science 2019

Coral reefs represent less than 1% but are home to 25% of all marine life on the planet. In fact the variety of life supported by coral reefs rivals that of the tropical forests of the Amazon

ONLY TOGETHER CAN WE SAVE THE MESOAMERICAN REEF

THE SEA WITHIN

The Sea Within explores the secret side of coral—its propagation. The installation creates a surreal underwater experience of the coral spawning, taking the audience into an underwater landscape filled with sound, bubbles, and magic. The Mesoamerican Reef has degraded by 80% in the past 30 years, due to climate change and irresponsible human custodianship. The Sea Within installation seeks to inspire optimism within the audience and provide them with facts and real, concrete ways they can help the coral reef right here in Tulum.

| MUSIC |

WIII O'Brien is working closely with Amy Frueh to create cinematic, classical music to add to the incredible ambiance of the installation.

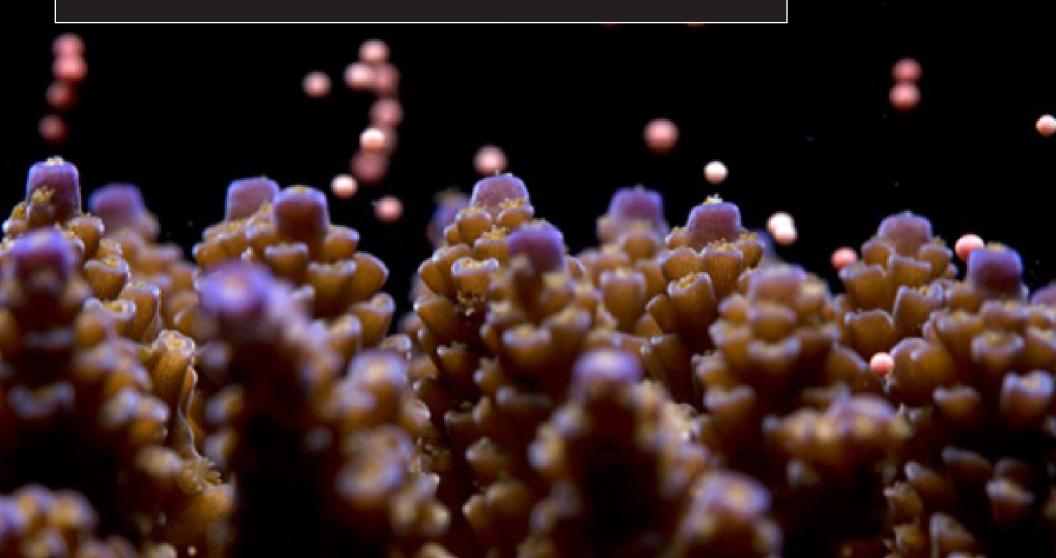

Music plays an important role in the coral reef. Scientists were delighted to discover that fish sing together. "You get the dusk and dawn choruses like you would with the birds in the forest," says Steve Simpson, a marine biologist at the University of Exeter, UK.

In humans, findings suggest music's intense power may lie in the fact it is processed by the same ancient brain circuitry used to read emotion in our movement. That may explain why music has such power to move us — it's activating those deep-seated brain regions used to process emotion.

| PROJECTIONS |

The Australian Institute of Marine Science has granted Amy Frueh access to all of their video footage of the coral spawning. She has chosen coral varieties that exist both in the Great Barrier Reef and the Mesoamerican Reef.

Amy Frueh will create a seamless video of the sea level rising up the walls of Mirador Tower (in Delek Hotel, Tulum) and the coral spawning for a complete undersea immersion experience.

From off in a corner of the space, a bubble machine joins in, the glowing, rainbow orbs floating along side the coral ovum in the projections. The audience is within the coral spawn itself! A symphony of sound, light, and tactility!

ARTIST |
Amy Frueh

Amy Frueh is an emerging, multimedia Canadian artist. She has had great success with exhibitions and art festivals in both Canada, the U.S., and Mexico, including the Akumal Art Festival, the Essex Modern City Festival, and Art With Me festival.

Amy's subject matter is a balance environmentalism and surrealism, as she seeks to make what seems impossible possible.

Amy Frueh frequents Tulum, Mexico, where she helps Beyond Coral, an NGO working to restore the coral reef and related eco systems.

| COMPOSER | Will O'brien

Will O'Brien is a composer based out of San Francisco, California. He writes music for piano and guitar that tell an emotional story and reach the hearts and the very core of his audience.

For The Sea Within experience, Will will be writing orchestral music, using the sound of the sea, piano, and abstract vocal elements to create an underwater magical soundscape in harmony with Amy's video projections.

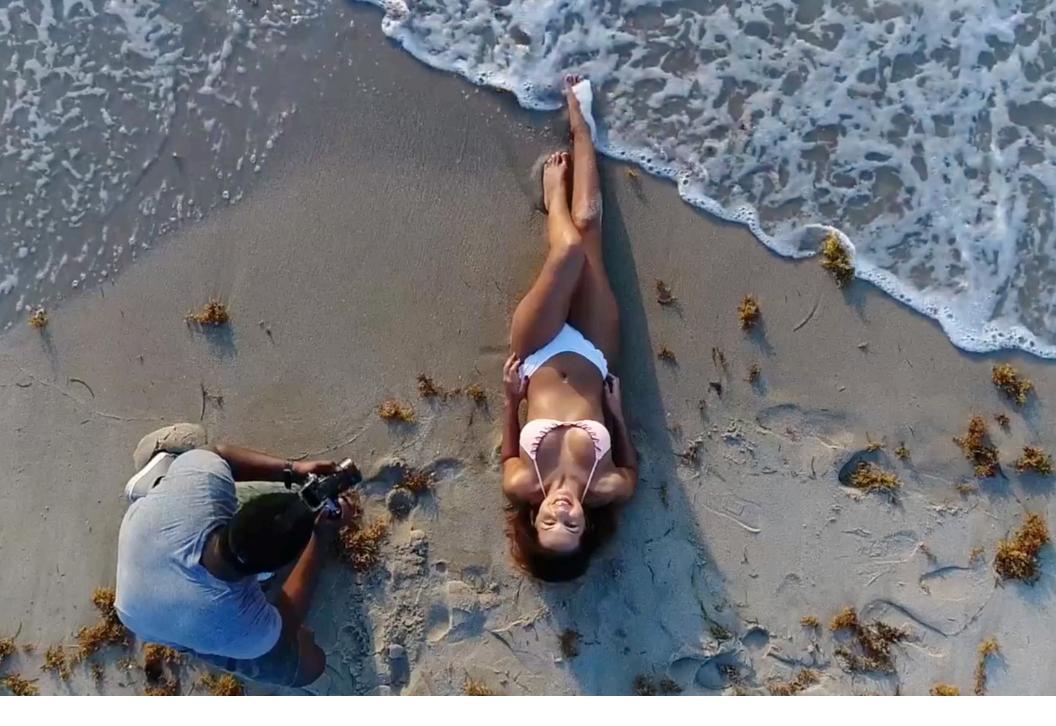

| NARRATOR | Emiliano Shea

Emiliano Shea is a policy, governance and communication specialist based in Tulum who worked has for important think-tanks (OECD, IMCO) and different level administrations in Mexico. Emiliano is a co-founder of Beyond Coral Foundation, a not-for-profit organization that seeks to protect and restore the reef through art, science, and storytelling. He works as a strategist for the organization and he loves to be involved in projects that inspire others in the creation of sustainable public value.

EXTRA PROGRAMMING |

The Sea Within will have the greatest visual impact at night, so Beyond Coral has helped Amy Frueh organize a series of influential talks, workshops, and performances to take place in the daytime at their location in Delek Tower, including:

- Live mermaid body casting by NGO 1000 Mermaids, with model Anna Matthews
- Talks with local specialists and scientists on the Mesoamerican Reef and related systems
- An Exhibition and presentation on that state of the coral reef in Tulum, from the divers monitoring them
- A Dragon Dreaming Environmental Visualization Meditation
- Performance art by international artists Heartribe
